WELCOME. LET'S KEEP IT SIMPLE.

Most fat-loss plans fail for one boring reason: they weren't built for the person following them. Same calories, same workouts and same meals for everyone — no matter their schedule, equipment or food choices.

This guide gives you a clean, realistic first week. No extreme diets, no two-hour workouts. Just four steps you can start today:

01 Your numbers

Find a sensible starting point for calories and protein.

02 Your meals

Build plates that keep you full — with swaps for halal, vegetarian and low-carb.

03 Your workouts

Three short full-body sessions, with an easier and harder version of every move.

04 Your habits

Sleep, steps and water — the quiet multipliers.

How to use this guide

- Read it once (about 10 minutes).
- Print or save the 7-day checklist on page 7 and tick it off daily.
- Don't chase perfect. Aim for most boxes, most days.
- At the end of the week, use page 8 to check progress and decide what to adjust.

Important: This guide is general guidance, not medical advice, and is intended for healthy adults (18+). If you are pregnant, breastfeeding, have a medical condition, take medication or have a history of disordered eating, talk to a qualified health professional before changing your diet or training.

STEP 1

YOUR CALORIE & PROTEIN STARTING POINT

Fat loss happens when you consistently take in a little less energy than you use. “A little” is the key word — big cuts are hard to keep up.

1. Estimate your maintenance calories

A quick, rough estimate for many adults:

Using kilograms

kg × 31–35

Lower end if you sit most of the day, higher end if you’re on your feet a lot.

Using pounds

lb × 14–16

Same idea — it’s a starting estimate, not an exact number.

2. Create a modest deficit

Subtract roughly 300–500 calories per day from your maintenance estimate. Very low intakes aren’t recommended without professional supervision.

3. Set your protein

Protein helps you stay full and protects muscle while you lose fat. A common target is 1.6–2.2 g per kg of body weight per day (about 0.7–1 g per lb). If you have a lot of weight to lose, base it on your goal weight instead.

Worked example

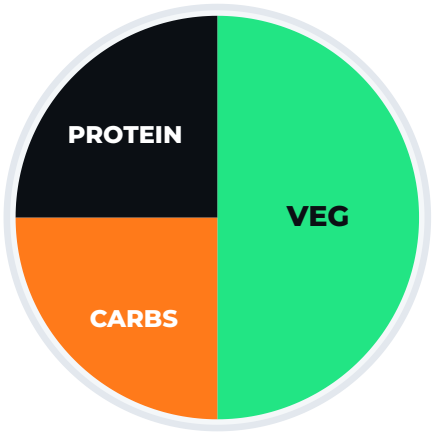

Body weight 80 kg, mostly sitting → maintenance ≈ 80 × 32 = 2,560 kcal.
Modest deficit → about 2,100–2,250 kcal per day.
Protein → 80 × 1.6–2.0 = about 130–160 g per day (roughly 35–40 g per meal across 4 meals).

These are estimates — your real results over 1–2 weeks matter more (see page 8).

STEP 2

BUILD A PLATE THAT KEEPS YOU FULL

You don’t need to weigh everything in week one. Use this plate at most meals:

- ½ plate vegetables or salad — volume and fibre for very few calories.
- ¼ plate protein — about a palm or two.
- ¼ plate smart carbs — rice, potatoes, oats, bread, fruit.
- A thumb of fats — olive oil, nuts, avocado.
- Drink water with the meal.

Easy swaps for your eating style

NEED	HALAL	VEGETARIAN	LOW-CARB
Protein	Halal-certified chicken, beef or lamb, fish, eggs	Eggs, Greek yogurt, lentils, chickpeas, tofu, tempeh	Chicken, fish, eggs, Greek yogurt, tofu
Carbs	Rice, bread, potatoes, oats, fruit	Rice, oats, wholegrain bread, beans, fruit	Extra veg, berries, small portion of beans
Fats	Olive oil, nuts, olives	Nuts, seeds, avocado, olive oil	Avocado, olive oil, nuts, cheese
Snack	Yogurt + fruit, dates (2–3)	Hummus + veg sticks	Boiled eggs, cheese + cucumber

Sample day: Greek yogurt + oats + berries · Chicken or chickpea rice bowl with salad · Apple + a handful of nuts · Fish or tofu with potatoes and vegetables.

STEP 3

THREE SHORT FULL-BODY SESSIONS

Train on 3 non-consecutive days (for example Mon / Wed / Fri). About 30 minutes each. Pick the version that fits your equipment and level.

MOVE	HOME / BODYWEIGHT	DUMBBELLS / GYM	MAKE IT EASIER / HARDER
Squat	Bodyweight squat	Goblet squat / leg press	Easier Sit-to-stand from a chair Harder Pause at the bottom
Push	Push-up	Dumbbell / machine press	Easier Hands on a bench or wall Harder Feet raised, slow lowering
Hinge	Glute bridge	Romanian deadlift	Easier Smaller range Harder Single-leg bridge
Pull	Backpack row / towel row	Dumbbell row / cable row	Easier Lighter load Harder 2-second squeeze at the top
Core	Plank	Plank / dead bug	Easier Knees down Harder Longer hold

Sets & reps

2–3 rounds of 8–12 reps (planks: 20–40 s). Rest about 60 s.

Effort

Finish each set feeling you could do 2–3 more reps with good form.

Progress

Each week, add a rep, a set or a little weight — one thing at a time.

Warm up for 5 minutes (brisk walk, arm circles, bodyweight squats). Stop if anything causes sharp pain.

STEP 4

THE DAILY HABITS THAT MULTIPLY RESULTS

Sleep

Most adults need 7–9 hours. Poor sleep makes hunger and cravings harder to manage.

Steps

Check your current daily average, then add 1,000–2,000 steps. Small and steady wins.

Water

Keep a bottle nearby and drink with every meal. Needs vary with heat and activity.

Make habits automatic

- Stack it: “After I pour my morning coffee, I fill my water bottle.”
- Walk after meals: 10 minutes after lunch or dinner adds up fast.
- Wind down: screens off 30 minutes before bed, same bedtime most nights.
- Prep the easy option: washed fruit and a protein snack you can grab.
- Never miss twice: a missed day is normal — just get back to it tomorrow.

Why this matters: calories and training set the direction, but sleep, movement and hydration decide how easy it feels to stay consistent. Consistency is what drives results.

YOUR 7-DAY CHECKLIST

Tick what you complete. Aim for most boxes, most days.

Day 1 to-do

- ☑ Work out your numbers (page 3)
- ☑ Buy the basics (page 9)
- ☑ Measure your waist

Day 7 to-do

- ☑ Count your ticks
- ☑ Measure your waist again
- ☑ Use page 8 to adjust

CHECK IN. ADJUST CALMLY.

Body weight goes up and down every day because of water, salt and food volume. Look at trends, not single days.

What to track

- Weekly average weight: weigh 3+ mornings a week (after the bathroom, before eating) and compare weekly averages.
- Waist: measure once a week at belly-button height.
- Your checklist score: how many boxes did you tick?
- Energy, sleep and hunger: a quick 1–5 rating is enough.

If progress slows after 2 weeks

First, be honest about consistency — if the checklist score was low, focus on that before changing anything. If you were consistent and the weekly averages haven't moved, change one thing:

Option A

Reduce daily intake by about 100–200 calories.

Option B

Add about 2,000 steps per day.

Then give it another 1–2 weeks before adjusting again. Small, patient changes beat big swings.

Want this done for you? The ZmaFit Custom 4-Week Plan builds your numbers, workouts and meals from your answers — and tells you exactly what to change after week 2 if progress slows.

STARTER GROCERY LIST

Pick what fits your eating style and budget. You don't need everything.

Protein

- Eggs
- Greek yogurt / skyr
- Chicken or turkey (halal-certified if needed)
- Fish or canned tuna
- Lentils, chickpeas, beans
- Tofu or tempeh

Carbs

- Oats
- Rice (white or brown)
- Potatoes / sweet potatoes
- Wholegrain bread or wraps
- Fruit: bananas, apples, berries

Vegetables

- Salad leaves, cucumber, tomatoes
- Frozen mixed vegetables
- Broccoli, peppers, onions
- Carrots for snacking

Fats & extras

- Olive oil
- Nuts or seeds
- Avocado
- Spices, herbs, lemon, hot sauce
- Hummus

Tip: cook a big batch of one protein and one carb twice a week. Mix with different vegetables and sauces so meals don't get boring.
